

Patches Condon

October 16, 2005 - May 24, 2019

Patches Condon was born in Anderson, Indiana, on October 16, 2005, and was rescued by her new Mommy and Daddy on March 1, 2006. She crossed over The Rainbow Bridge on May 24, 2019, after a brief illness of strokes and seizures. To her parents, she was their Baby Girl.

Patches loved her stuffed animals, especially her monkey. She loved to eat and absolutely loved ice cream! She enjoyed giving kisses and would smile when asked to. As she became older, she loved to lay in the sun...but could still chase birds! She never liked storms. After an earthquake (which she got her Mommy and Daddy up), she became so fearful of the storms, high winds, lightning and fireworks. It was then she had to, unfortunately, be given prescription drugs. She hated being in a car, so when she did, she knew she was going to the vet. When she got back in the car, she knew for certain she was on her way home!

Her mornings were spent covered up in the chair with her blanket, and her evenings after dinner until she slept in bed nightly with Mommy and Daddy. Patches was a lifeline for her Daddy through his illness. She grieved horribly after his passing. She became her Mommy's lifeline afterwards.

Patches was an only furbaby until May 4, 2018, when she got a new sister, Freckles, also rescued -- but they didn't like each other much. They learned to tolerate each other.

Her Mommy, Debbie, is lost without her.

Patches was preceded in death by her Daddy, John F. Condon. She is survived by her Mommy, Debbie Condon, and her fur sister, Freckles.

As her pet mom shared, "Fly high, my sweet Baby Girl. You're at peace now, and no longer suffering and whole. Take care of Daddy, and you two run and play until I see you both again. I love you, Baby Girl. Always, Mommy."
