Hunter's family includes his Pappaw Moe Murray, Nana Carol Ramseyer, and Aunt Missy Murray. His favorite toys were his baby chicken, chewy bones, rag ropes, and tennis balls. Hunter loved playing outside chasing tennis balls and cruising town in his Pappaw's 1964 Corvette convertible. His favorite place to sleep was anywhere with his Mom. His favorite food was a whopper jr with cheese and ketchup only. Hunter's least favorite thing was getting his nails clipped.

Some special memories of Hunter include:

Hunter got off his leash when he was two and took off on a mad dash. My sister and I chased him for a block and a half and got saved by a little girl he went to who held him for us. He loved to play ball! You could throw a tennis ball for hours in my dad's backyard. Hunter once got into my dad's Diet Coke, after that he was addicted. He never ate ice without diet coke after that.
