My Jackie Boy:

You came into my life on May 5th 2009. From Day one, you were so happy and full of life. Always reminding me to play; always there to cuddle. Always my sweet hearted boy. You loved to swim in the pool, chase tennis balls, squirrels, and ducks (when I'd take you for walks at the gardens.) Fresh linnens right from the dryer were always your favorite. You were there to remind me to be happy even when life wasn't going my way I wouldn't have gotten through what we did without you. Unconditional love describes you perfectly. We said goodbye March 13th, 2024. I will hold that Unconditional love until I see you and your sister again. I hope you found each other, and are enjoying the sunshine, steaks and chicken, (I know you love,) and are having fun every day. I hope you have a comfy place to sleep and dream until I see you again. I miss you, Daddy's Boy. Look after Lucy for me! ♡
