

Kylo Ren Galor

January 20, 2020 - December 16, 2022

Kylo Ren ("Robo-puppy", "Razz-ma-taz", "Circles") was born on January 20, 2020; and passed on December 16, 2022. He is survived by his pet parents, Jon and Natalie Galor; and pet sibling, older brother Brodi. Other family and friends are Kate and Ken, Chris and Mike Evans, Ryan and Mayelin Evans, and Aunt Yetis.

Kylo Ren's favorite toys were his small stuffed lambchop, Hawaiian sloth, and Haunted house dog bed. His favorite activities were running circles, barking at his older brother, trying to sneak out the front door and supervising any work being done. His least favorite things were going outside in the cold and snow, and helping mom sew. His favorite place to sleep was in the dog bed in my office.

Favorite memories of Kylo Ren: Backpacking with him at the Cincinnati Farmer's Market, him exploring everything the first time we took him to the dog park and other people fawning over him, and his very first Christmas with us when he laid down in front of my mom's corgi Christmas tree. My ultimate favorite memory is when I dressed him up for his first Valentine's Day with us. I had him in a little tuxedo and he was such a perfect little gentleman.

“ Though I didn't get to meet him, I did get to see a lot of videos and pictures of him.
He was very obviously loved by his Mom and Dad and brother, Brodi. It was evident in the glow that surrounded his beautiful face. His world was his family and even in his passing, that will not change.
RIP, Kylo.

“ The many circles I watched him do in front of the door was an amazing sight. His fluff was quite puff, and his barks any time his brother decided to bark were music to my ears. I'll miss his adorable fluffy face and his love for being a tornado.

“ I'm going to miss that lovely, silly, donut-running, little fluff ball. Kylo was such a good, sweet, baby boy. Always made me laugh when he'd be running excited circles around the table, or around visitors when they came over to visit. He was also an impeccable cuddler and snuggler! RIP little Padawan. You're going to be missed.

“ I remember seeing Kylo for the first time right after he was born. He was the smallest of the litter, but he had the biggest heart. He loved to play and jump around. I made the mistake of making him my heart dog from Katniss’s first litter. I am great-full for Natalie taking him and giving him the home he deserved and needed to have the best life he could have.

“ Bar none, the sweetest little ball of fluff, I've ever known. He was the perfect little houseguest. He will always be missed, but know he lived his best life, with Natalie and Jon, who dearly loved him.
