

Lola White-Smith

November 24, 2013 - September 19, 2021

Lola “Piglet” White-Smith was born November 24, 2013, to Undercover’s Special Investigator Boomer and Elite Quality Josephine. She lived the first 6 months of her life in a hotel being pampered with love from everyone she met as well as St. Elmo’s Steak. From there she went on to live on a 3 acre property where she could run and play.

Always the helper, she chased geese off the yard and was the swim monitor for Cate and her friends. Unfortunately, Lola was not a skilled swimmer, or even a swimmer at all, having to be saved by Alisha on 2 occasions when she slipped off the side and sank like a rock. As she got older she became a constant companion for Cate, helping Cate to sleep with her loud snores. Lola never took to the agility training, wearing out far too quickly, however, she excelled at sleeping on the bed while Cate completed her virtual learning during 2020. Feisty and brave, Lola was embarking on the challenge to train her new brother Bleu to be a good dog when a fast growing lymphoma took her from us far too soon.

Lola was an incredible companion and friend. She was loyal, loving, and super. We miss her terribly, but know she is in heaven with a mountain of French fries looking down on us and awaiting the day she can lick us till our skin comes off
