

Maggie Myers

November 1, 2025

Maggie Mae Myers was born on or around June 8, 2012 and passed on November 1, 2025. She is survived by her pet parents Ellie, Stachia, and Todd Myers, and her best dog friend Brandon.

Maggie was not big into toys, but she particularly enjoyed play fighting with her humans, sitting in front of space heaters, cuddling up in the pits of our knees, licking the salt of dad's legs, and her morning turkey with mom.

We got to share 13 love and fun filled years with our Maggie. She was there for my first boyfriend, first heartbreak, high school graduation, and acceptance into nursing school. There is nothing that can fill the empty space her passing has left in our hearts.

Her silly face with her tongue sticking out was enough to lift anyone's spirits. She was our baby and we are truly devastated she is gone.

We love you so much, Maggie. You have been the best girl we could have ever asked for. We miss you so much already.

I hope you're up there running around with Chief, waiting at the rainbow bridge for us.

Please come visit us sometime girl.

Tribute Wall

“ Our sweet Maggie. We miss you much, Mags. I love you so much and thank you for always loving me back. I know you're in Heaven and you brought a smile to the face of Jesus. Boop boop, girl. We will see you again.

Stachia Myers - November 10, 2025 at 09:59 AM