I can't believe you were with us for just two years. When we got you from the animal shelter you were 10 years old. People said it wasn't worth adopting you because you were so old, but it was actually one of the best decisions of our lives. You taught us so much in two short years time. You taught us to sing your song. Your song is a song of love, joy, and happiness. it's about finding contentment in everything that you do. It's about loving everyone to the best of your ability. It's about just living in the present moment and sharing what you feel with others. We will continue to help and love other shelter dogs. If we do that, we can help your song to live forever.
