

Percy Cunningham

January 26, 2022

Percy Cunningham passed away peacefully at home in his dad's arms after a brief illness. Percival was 10 years old and was adopted 8 years ago to fill a void left by Bogart, another awesome and loveable boy. He was adopted from a PetSmart adoption event.

A favorite memory is when he met his new family. His former family was forced to surrender him, but it was obvious he'd been well-loved. As they let his cat-dad hold him for the first time, he laid a paw on each shoulder and buried his face in his new dad's neck.

That was Percy, all the time. He loved snuggles, smelled like flowers, and lived for the heat (would snooze on the garage floor in 100-degree temperatures). Every box was an invitation to jump in. He was a dedicated office assistant and slept on dad's desk pretty much every day while he worked from home. He enjoyed his Catio 8 months of the year and could always be found on the big swing in the sun and the breeze waiting for someone to come rub his belly.

He was a very fast cat. He played a game with his younger chonky brother called Big Cat/Fast Cat, where his goal was to reach a home base of any flat high surface. He had two speeds: asleep and super-mega-turbo-zoomies.

He never ever showed a mean moment. Never once lashed out. Never bit anything. Never used his claws except on the scratching post. He did, however, have a very judgmental stare.

He is survived by his mom and dad, who will always miss him, and by his younger brother, Carl, who seems confused.

Tribute Wall

JC

“ Joseph Cunningham lit a candle in memory of Percy Cunningham ”

Joseph Cunningham - February 02, 2022 at 11:40 AM

JC

“ 6 files added to the tribute wall ”

Joseph Cunningham - February 02, 2022 at 06:53 AM

JC

Soft, sweet. snuggly.

Joseph Cunningham - February 02, 2022 at 06:55 AM

JC

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Joseph Cunningham - February 02, 2022 at 06:51 AM

JC

Fiercely attacking a strip of cardboard. "Die, cardboard strip! Die!"

Joseph Cunningham - February 02, 2022 at 09:44 AM

JU

“ *Percy was the softest kitty I ever petted and a great cuddle buddy.
He was a peace maker and he will be missed*

Judith - February 01, 2022 at 03:45 PM

LT

“ 1 file added to the album Percy Cunningham

Loyal and True - February 01, 2022 at 11:38 AM