

Precious McClish

September 21, 2011 - October 4, 2015

Precious McClish departed her earthly home on October 4, 2015. She was born on September 21, 2011 and she was brought to her forever home with the McClishs on December 26, 2011 as a Christmas gift for Chrissy. She is survived by her favorite sleeping buddy, RascalFerret, Gizmo and OnyxCats. Also left behind were her human family, Don, Chrissy, Taylor and Dylan. She did though join Chaz and KramerDogs at Rainbow Bridge were they can meet up and frolic and play until we all meet again.

Precious was a ton of fun and a lot of entertainment for us. She was full of all kinds of energy and she loved to run all around the house chasing us like she was in a marathon. She was so rotten that she loved to climb into our beds and bite our toes when we were asleep, she would also take her toys and run with them and hide them in the futon or in Taylors bottom dresser drawer. Let's just say that I just counted the toys and there were "34" toys that Precious had hidden. If a toy was ever taken back out and she realized it she would freak out and immediately run it back to where it was hidden. She loved to play with anything that rattled or made noise and she also loved her favorite peanut butter treats.

Rascal was the head ferret of the house until Precious came into the McClish house. It took at least 6 months before they were able to even be in the same room but they did become best friends and they would sleep together like a knot tied together. When they didn't sleep together, the first thing Precious would do when she woke up was run around the house looking for her buddy.

Precious will be forever missed!

“Rip Precious, I love and miss you so much. You were so rotten and loved to bite my feet. And take all of the toys and hide them. You would always spaz out and and chase us all over the house. I miss cuddling with you waking up during the night to check on you. I will always miss you and never ever forget you. I love you pp.
