

Shyla Grodrian

December 13, 2025

Shyla (Shy shy) Grodrian was born July 2015 and passed on December 13th, 2025.

She was my unofficial emotional support dog, I'm just not sure who was getting the support her or me. I went through heck and back when I took her in when she was 6 months old. From thinking my house was her endless bathroom to literal holes being chewed in my walls where you can see outside. She had separation issues to say the least. I almost gave up on her but everytime i looked into those giant doe eyes i knew i couldn't. And that was the best decision I've made. She was my best friend.

She knew when I was sick or sad, she wouldn't leave my side, not once in 10 years! So in the end I did the same for her, I laid by her side holding her until she took her last breath. I'm going to miss the way she howled for me when I got home for work and her coming up to me for one of her "hugs".

Shyla loved laying in the yard soaking up the sun, loved going for car rides so that she can howl and yip as loud as she wants.

Shyla, you were my saving grace I didn't know I needed. You've allowed me to cry into your chest and cling on to your body on several occasions, you showed me unconditional love. You're going to be missed every single day.

She is survived by her pet parents Ashley and Josh Grodrian, her pet siblings Miley and Rodney Grodrian, her fur siblings Thor, Athena and Nyx. She was preceded in death by her best four legged best friend, Nala. Rest easy old girl.
