much.

She met her older sister Dixie Rae Leisure over the rainbow bridge. Born Feb 16, 2011 and passed away Feb 16, 2022 and her favorite rat baby Squeakers who passed away Nov 27, 2024

I rescued Sissy when she was Approximately 6 months old. At the time it was only Dixie and I so I was not sure how well things were going to go. At first they didn't like each other at all. But with some time and love they soon were inseparable. Which they were to the end. She stayed by her sister's side watching over her and loving on her and made sure she wasn't alone as she passed away. And stayed beside her until morning. During the years they watched their baby Kam grow up and were her best friends they claimed her the very moment she was brought home from being born. You couldn't ask for a better dog, friend and protector than Sissy. She was loyal, obedient, goofy, smart, protective and so very very lovable. She was the best cuddler ever and couldn't give enough kisses. She couldn't resist pizza crust and string cheese. Her most favorite things to do was follow the mom everywhere including going to the potty and bathing. She used to sit outside the garage door and cry the word "mama" if I wouldn't let her in there with me. She absolutely loved patrolling the yards with and without the dad. And chasing and hunting outside critters and some inside. She spent relaxing times with her "kid" Kam playing dress up and kitchen, snuggled up watching tv. She love sleeping with the mom and going for rides. When she would hear her #1 boyfriend's car she would get so excited and howl for him until he got inside or you let her out the door to go to him. She was like this with all her friends and family. She had unconditional deep love for all her people and was so very loved by so many people and is deeply missed but none as much as me, her mom. For 12 yrs her and her sister made sure I was never alone and we were very close and when Dixie passed away Sissy and I grew even closer and there won't be a day I wont love her and miss her and think about her but I know she's not hurting anymore and she is finally back with her sister and partner in crime who she's missed very much. And they're having a ball running round playing and finally able to curl into a ball with and sleep and is happy. Until we're all reunited again. She was such a good good girl. Rest Easy Sissy-Girl Mama loves her good girl.
