

Walle Boyer

September 21, 2024

Walle (Walter, Willie, My handsome old man) was adopted from the animal shelter in California 10-18-2008 as a handsome adult dog. He passed away 9-21-2024. He is survived by his pet parents Logan Snyder and Jenise Boyer- I've been Walle's mommy since I was 2 years old, he chose me that day and I chose him and the rest well the rest was the best 16 years of my life I coulda asked for, he truly was the best dog I will ever have. He is also survived by pet brother, Whisky. Other family and friends: Walle was so loved by so many my papaw, Walle's grandparents my mom Jennifer Boyer and my dad Joseph Boyer, his aunt Joelene Boyer, Boogie, Cairo, Delaney, my grandma Della, my papa up in heaven that's loving him for me right now, and all the puppies he raised, Blue, Gizmo, Tank, Jemma, TJ, Roxy, and Angela. He was preceded in death by his pet brother, Blue.

He never liked toys but he loved playing with the other dogs and eating, cool ranch doritos was his favorite.

He used to love running and he was so fast. he loved napping, yelling at mom for everything and anything, he loved being babied and he loved after bath time he would go crazy with zoomiez and even when he got old he'd still get happy after and try to run around.

He hated being woken up and he hated not being by his mommy.

Favorite place to sleep- on mom's bed on top of all the pillows stretched out with mom of course, in mom's arms, on the top of the couches, on his couch up front with mom and dad, and he loved sleeping in the sun so much.

Favorite memories - when living in California Walle ran away from the cops and got away! He then came right back home after. He used to be faster than our 4 wheeler and we'd race, he always won. He caught a squirrel at like 18 years old. Him seeing me go to pre-k to him seeing me graduate high school this year and I couldn't be more grateful he got to be with me through everything. One year he unwrapped his Christmas present early because it was a bone and I had to rewrap and hide it. He loved to be held like a baby and he loved his sweaters and outfits. But my all time favorite, he really grew into his little old man role so well, when he got old he did whatever he wanted, stole food, got on tables, yelled at the other dogs for being in his bed he yelled at me for everything because that's my baby and he knew I catered to him and he loved it and he wouldn't have had it any other way because he knew he was the best and he knew that he deserved the very best.

“ I didn't spend a lot of time with Walle these past few years but I remember every time Jenise and I would spend time together walle was always there with us and seemed to always make us laugh especially when he'd yell at us for bothering him while he was sleeping. He was a good dog and I'm glad that he found Jenise and let us all love him, helped raise all the puppies we brought home (even if he was over it after the first 2 lol) and have such great memories with him. ”

“ I would not change a moment I had with Walle. I do spend a lot of time wishing for more though. I loved every single moment because even when he was a "bad boy" he was hilarious, adorable, and him. He was genuinely like a force of nature, he held so much fire in that little body. Oh what I would do to be laying in bed hearing his walk tip-tap-tip-tap across the room

Walle was a great furbaby. When he lived in Cali & in Indiana when I would sit down he was always on the back of the couch & would come up behind you & rest on your shoulder or stayed right behind your head. Walle was so lovable & affectionate. He also wanted to be in charge even though he was the smallest of all of the doggies. He loved his treats. He will be deeply missed bye Wally until we meet again. Papa I know you will hug & pet Walle now that you are together. Not good bye but until we meet again. 💕💕💕
